

ADVERTISE
RECENT ARTICLES
CITIES
CONTACT
ABOUT
ARTICLE INDEX
CURRENT EXHIBITION
EXHIBITION ARCHIVE

NOVEMBER 2020

"THE BEST ART IN THE WORLD"

INTERIORS at 1969 Gallery

INTERIORS: hello from the living room

1969 Gallery

November 1 through November 29, 2020

By ALFRED ROSENBLUTH, November 2020

Now on view at 1969 gallery, the show INTERIORS: hello from the living room asks us to consider the enclosed space, a subject that has taken on new light in the shadow of the pandemic.

Quinten McCaffery, Sunset, 2020. Image courtesy of the artist and 1969 Gallery (Matt Carlson).

Reaching the edge of idealism, we enter the Real's green room of Quinten McCaffery's platonic Sunset. Developed from no consistent set of references, it would be apt to characterize this depicted synthetic environment as a simulation which tests the grammatical structures of an interior. McCaffery's work is an expression of the liminal - what the White Lodge might have been, had Lynch's inspiration been BBC "Period" dramas. One is left with the sense that any attempt to exit such a space would immediately deliver them back into it from the opposite side.

ALFRED ROSENBLUTH

Alfred Rosenbluth is an artist and educator currently residing in the Philadelphia area. You can find him at @\_aallfreedd on instagram or through his website at www.alfredrosenbluth.com

view all articles from this author